

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAIʻI · HAWAIʻI MESONET

Love hydrology, have a PhD, and know your way around a Campbell datalogger?

Maui might be your new home base.

POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCHER · MAUI, HAWAIʻI

An unique 50/50 appointment with the University of Hawai'I Water Resources Research Center half focused on maintaining Hawaiʻi Mesonet field instrumentation, and half on your own research in camera- and AI-based streamflow, hydrology, and hazard monitoring. For a scientist who can troubleshoot a sensor in the rain and write the code that makes it smarter.
