

SPRING 2020 COLLEGE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Are you interested in combating climate change? Do you want to build professional skills to advocate for social justice?

The FFAC 2020 Spring Internship program is for college students that are passionate about educating the public about the impacts of our food choices. Through public outreach, nonprofit work, mentorship, and analytical discussion, interns gain valuable tools to become compassionate leaders.

- Gain nonprofit experience, professional development, and leadership skills
- Develop knowledge around social and environmental impacts of factory farming
- Receive $400 3-month stipend & credits

To apply, visit ffacoalition.org/intern by January 31, 2020 (or until filled) or contact Kiely Smith at kiely@ffacoalition.org

ffac

FACTORY FARMING
AWARENESS COALITION